ABOUT SGS

Sonoran Glass School is the premiere source for glass arts education in the desert southwest.

We offer classes in furnace glassblowing, torchworking, glass fusing, stained glass, mosaics, coldworking, and more - all taught by a select team of gifted instructors. Local and world-renowned visiting artists host our specialty workshops, and our award-winning youth programs serve underserved students and schools in Tucson. Classes are open to everyone, from first-timers to professional artists and children as young as five.

SEMESTER CLASSES FALL 2013-14

POSSIBLE COURSE CREDIT FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS*

The Sonoran Glass School (SGS) semester long courses can be taken through Pima Community College (PCC) or the University of Arizona's (UA's) Extension Program to receive college credit. Credit students must register with both SGS and PCC or UA. All other students register with SGS. Students get 100 hours of class time to practice the craft with experienced instructors. With these in-depth semester classes, you'll gain competence in a wide array of techniques and tool manipulation needed to create inspired works of art.*

MAKE YOUR OWN GLASS ART

MOST WEEKENDS, SOME EVENINGS, AND BY APPOINTMENT

Make Your Own (MYO) experiences invite each individual to explore his or her artistic creativity and preview the world of glass art in a short amount of time. These experiences are 15 minutes to an hour long and are fun and exciting for a family, out-of-town guests, groups, special occasions, and parties.
