The Philabaum Glassblowing Scholarship is named after glass artist and Sonoran Glass School co-founder Tom Philabaum. This scholarship will be awarded to an individual who has a serious interest in learning the art and craft of furnace glassblowing and who has a financial barrier that prevents him or her from pursuing an education in this glass art medium.

The scholarship funds awarded to the recipient are to be used to take Sonoran Glass School's most comprehensive semester glassblowing program: Furnace Glassblowing I, also available for credit to Pima Community College students as ART 265. Up to $700 will be funded through this scholarship to the qualifying student or students.

REQUIRED APPLICATION MATERIALS

Students will submit these materials with this Application Cover Page.

A) Application Cover Page

B) Letter of Interest

The format and content of this letter is up to you, but you may answer questions such as: Why are you a great candidate for this scholarship? Do you have any history with the art form? What would you gain from the scholarship? Do you plan to pursue a career in the glass arts? Will you be taking this class for credit from Pima Community College?

C) Letter of Impact

Please provide information related to how the funds awarded for this scholarship would help remove a barrier or positively impact your ability to take this class.

D) Letter of Recommendation

From a teacher, artist, or other professional.

E) Work Examples and Social Media

Work examples do not have to be made of glass. Attach photos of artistic work to the email or, in a separate .doc, provide links to photos or videos that relate to your qualifying for this scholarship. If you have a social media account(s) that relates to artistic work you do, please include that in the .doc as well.
